

CONCUSSION & CTE FOUNDATION

PRIVACY POLICY

Terms and Conditions of Use

By accessing and browsing the Site, you accept and agree to be bound by, without limitation or qualification, the Privacy Policy as set forth and acknowledge that any other agreements between you and the Concussion & CTE Foundation to the contrary of these Terms and Conditions of Use are superseded and of no force or effect.

Disclaimer

The Concussion & CTE Foundation works to ensure that the information provided on its authorized website is accurate, timely and useful. However, the information contained on the Site should not be considered medical guidance or professional advice. The Concussion & CTE Foundation, its affiliates or agents, or any other parties involved in the preparation or publication of this site are not responsible for errors or omissions in information provided on this site or any actions resulting from the use of such information. Visitors are encouraged to confirm the information contained herein with other reliable sources and to direct any questions concerning their personal health to licensed physicians or other appropriate health care professionals. Corrections and additions to this site will be made when necessary or as time permits.

Internet Use Policy

1. You may freely browse this Site, but you may only download information from this Site, including any text, images, audio, and video (the “Information”) for non-commercial, personal use. The forms and content on this Site are subject to applicable copyright protections and may not be used without the prior written permission of the Concussion & CTE Foundation. You may not distribute, modify, transmit, reuse, report, or use the content of this Site for public or commercial purposes, including the text, images, audio, and video without prior written permission of the Concussion & CTE Foundation. You should assume that everything you see or read on the Site is copyrighted unless otherwise noted and may not be used except as provided in the Privacy Policy or in the text on this Site without the prior written permission of the Concussion & CTE Foundation. The Concussion & CTE Foundation neither warrants nor represents that your use of materials displayed on this Site will not infringe rights of third parties not owned by or affiliated with the Concussion & CTE Foundation. With the exception of the foregoing limited authorization, no license to or right in the Information, or any copyright of the Concussion & CTE Foundation or of any other party is granted or conferred to you.
2. In no event will the Concussion & CTE Foundation be liable for any direct, indirect, special, consequential, or other damages arising out of the use of this site.

CONCUSSION & CTE
FOUNDATION

3. The Concussion & CTE Foundation assumes no responsibility, and shall not be liable for, any damages to, or viruses that may infect, your computer equipment or other property as a result of your access to, use of, or browsing in this Site or your downloading of anything from this Site. The Concussion & CTE Foundation reserves the right to modify the information contained on this Site without notice, and makes no commitment to update the information contained in this Site. The Concussion & CTE Foundation does not accept responsibility or liability whatsoever for any interruption or discontinuance of any or all functionality of this Site, whether the result of actions or omissions of an entity of the Concussion & CTE Foundation or a third party.
4. Any communication or material you transmit to this Site by e-mail or otherwise, including, but not limited to, any data, questions, comments, or suggestions, and will be treated as non-confidential and non-proprietary. Anything you transmit or post on this Site becomes the property of the Concussion & CTE Foundation or its affiliates and may be used for any purpose, including, but not limited to, reproduction, disclosure, transmission, publication, broadcast, and posting.
5. Any unauthorized use of any images on this Site may violate copyright laws, trademark laws, the laws of privacy and publicity, and communications regulations and statutes.
6. The trademarks, logos, and service marks (collectively the “Trademarks”) displayed on this Site are Trademarks of the Concussion & CTE Foundation or its affiliates. Nothing contained on this Site is to be construed as granting any license or right to use any Trademark displayed on this Site without the prior written permission of the Concussion & CTE Foundation. Unauthorized use of the Trademarks displayed on this Site, or any other content on this Site, is strictly prohibited.
7. This Site may contain links to other websites. Such links are meant solely for the user’s convenience. The Concussion & CTE Foundation has no control over, and is not responsible for the content found on, external websites. Because the Concussion & CTE Foundation has no control over and does not endorse any of the sites to which this Site is linked, and because the Concussion & CTE Foundation has not reviewed any or all of the sites to which this Site is linked, you acknowledge that the Concussion & CTE Foundation is not responsible for the content of any off-Site pages or any other sites linked to this Site. Your linking to this Site, off-Site pages or other sites is at your own risk and without the permission of the Concussion & CTE Foundation. By making use of any such links, you understand and agree that the legal statement and privacy policy of the linked site will apply and which may be different from those of the Concussion & CTE Foundation. Links to such third party websites do not constitute sponsorship, endorsement or approval of such websites or the contents therein.
8. The Concussion & CTE Foundation respects the privacy of every individual who visits this Site. This Policy outlines the information the Concussion & CTE Foundation may collect and how we may use that information. In some cases, we may automatically (i.e., not via registration) collect technical information when you connect to this Site that is not personally-identifiable such as the type of Internet browser you are using, the type of computer operating system you are using and the domain name of the website from which you linked to this Site.

CONCUSSION & CTE FOUNDATION

9. The web servers of the Concussion & CTE Foundation and its affiliates may collect the domain names of visitors to this Site. This information may be aggregated to measure the number of visits, average time of visit, pages viewed, etc., in order to measure the use of this Site and improve content as may be necessary. The Concussion & CTE Foundation only collects personal information from our visitors submitted on a voluntary basis. Personal information may include name, title, company, address, e-mail address, phone number, and the like. Unless specifically stated, we do not require this information to obtain access to any part of this Site. The Concussion & CTE Foundation endeavors to make such personal information secure against unauthorized use and access. The Concussion & CTE Foundation and its affiliates do not sell or transmit personal information to other organizations.
10. You will indemnify and hold harmless the Concussion & CTE Foundation from and against any and all claims, damages, losses, liabilities, suits, actions, demands, proceedings, (whether legal or administrative), and expenses arising out of or relating to any use of any discussions, chats, postings, transmissions, bulletin boards, and the like contained on this Site, including any that may arise from a violation of this notice. Such claims shall include, but shall not be limited to, claims based upon trademark, service mark, trade name, copyright and patent infringement, trademark dilution, tortious interference with contract or prospective business relations, unfair competition, defamation or injury to reputation, misrepresentation or breach of warranty, or other injuries or damage to business.
11. The laws of Massachusetts shall apply to all matters relating to the use of this Site, and you agree to submit to the exclusive personal jurisdiction and venue of Massachusetts. The Concussion & CTE Foundation may at any time revise these Terms and Conditions by updating this posting. You are bound by any such revisions and should therefore periodically visit this page to review the then current Terms and Conditions to which you are bound.

Personal Data

The Concussion & CTE Foundation may ask for and collect from you personally identifiable information at various points throughout the site. Depending on the information and/or services you request, you may be asked to provide your name, e-mail address, address, phone number, payment details and similar information. Once you provide your personal information, you are not anonymous to the Concussion & CTE Foundation. If you do not want your personal data collected, please do not submit it to us.

When you do provide us with personal data, we may use that information in the following ways, unless stated otherwise:

CONCUSSION & CTE FOUNDATION

- we may store and process that information to better understand your needs and how we can improve our services
- we may use that information to contact you
- we may provide other third parties with aggregate—but not individual—information about visitors to or users of our website

The Concussion & CTE Foundation complies with the General Data Protection Regulation (“GDPR”).

Website Cookies

In addition to the information gathered as described above, we may automatically collect non-personal technical information by using a technology called “cookies” when you connect to our website. Examples of this type of information include the type of Internet browser you are using, the type of computer operating system you are using, and the domain name of the website from which you linked to our site. This information is collected to track usage behavior and compile aggregate data to facilitate content improvements. You may opt out of Google’s use of cookies by visiting Google’s Ads settings (<https://www.google.com/settings/ads>).

Mobile Information

No mobile information will be shared with third parties or affiliates for marketing or promotional purposes.