

EMORY
UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

Depression and Cognition in Male Football Players: Volunteers Needed

Researchers at Emory University are conducting a medication study in football players with depressive and cognitive symptoms

You may qualify if you:

- Are male, 30 to 55 years of age
- Have played 11+ years of tackle football
- Have been struggling with depression and cognitive symptoms

Participation involves at least 6 in-person visits at Emory University over ~10 weeks. Compensation will be provided

CONTACT INFO

Karina Noll

Ph: 404-727-8229

karina.noll@emory.edu

or

behavioral.immunology@emory.edu

Scan QR code for more information:

behavioralimmunology.com